

GOVERNMENTS SHOULD SPEND MORE MONEY ON EDUCATION THAN ON RECREATION AND SPORTS.DO U AGREE OR DISAGREE?

Education is main source of life and backbone for everyone and some people feel that authorities should spend more on education. Others feel they should consider both. I discuss that they should money where it is needed more then spending only on education.

Comment: The main

Comment: Both education and recreation

Comment: argue

Comment: that

Comment: Don't give your opinion here – save it for the last paragraph

Comment: shouldn't

Comment: in

Comment: recognized

Comment: sponsors

Comment: in

Comment: at half way

Comment: deny them this career

Comment: confusing, who are they here?

Comment: vacation

Comment: few

Comment: neglected

Comment: foreign

Comment: according

Comment: concentrate

Comment: illiterates

Comment: that

Comment: shouldn't

Comment: committees

Firstly i feel physical training and mental relaxation are as important as education and they shouldnt be neglected.For example developing countries like India, authorities spend less amount on sports. As a result many young talents are not recognised. Due to lack of money or sponsors neglecting them they are not able to play international level games. So many of them are dropping midway as they are not able to establish as players.Taking that into consideration parents are discouraging the kids and trying to avoid them to take this into carrier.As a result nations are loosing the young talents .

Secondly they are neglecting to develop vaction spots. They are releasing very less money to develop them. For example if we take India there are many monuments and historical structures which are getting negleted and not taken care.If they spend more budget here it not only retain thousands of years culture but also attract foriegn tourist.

Thirdly in others view, government should spend more on education .Accordig to them it gives life for many people. If the people are educated the whole nation is educated. They even say first nations should concenterarte the amount of illitrates in there country and try to solve that problem.

I conclude by saying government should consider the needs and requirements before releasing budget. They shouldnt neglect any field how important the other one may be. They have to appoint commities and go accordingly to solve the problem.